

McNulty to play at the Wild Coast Sun

Mark McNulty, one of the finest golfers produced out of Southern Africa with more than 60 worldwide professional wins, has confirmed that he will play at the Wild Coast Sun Resort course from 18-20 November this year.

This event will be the last tournament of the year for the Senior Tour members, where the top 30 players on the Order of Merit after Silver Lakes from 3-5 November will have preference to the starting line-up of 30.

It will be the second occasion of the Senior Tour partnering with Sun International at the Wild Coast Resort where a Pro-Am will be part of the event for the first two days and the professionals playing the last day without amateurs.

The other big names in the over 50 age categories expected to participate are James Kingston, the defending champion, Doug McGuigan, Chris Williams, Grant Muller, Neil Cheetham, Nic Henning, Chris Davison, Bobby Lincoln and other well-known past Sunshine Tour stalwarts.

The players and the amateur participants look forward to competing and having a good time and great golfing experience on a wonderful golf course and WCS facilities.
